Item-B-1446 - Revisions to NCCI's Basic Manual, Residual Market Manual, and Forms Manual

Filing Memorandum

Item B-1446—Revisions to NCCI's Basic Manual, Residual Market Manual, and Forms Manual

Purpose

The item proposes to

- reformat the Table of classifications by hazard group in NCCI's Basic Manual for Workers Compensation and Employers Liability Insurance (Basic Manual)
- update various rules and classifications in NCCI's Basic Manual and NCCI's Residual Market Manual for Workers Compensation and Employers Liability Insurance (Residual Market Manual) based on feedback received, and
- update Texas Form DNE-1A—Deductible Notice of Election in NCCI's Forms Manual of Workers Compensation and Employers Liability Insurance (Forms Manual).

Background

Item B-1444—NCCI's Basic Manual for Workers Compensation and Employers Liability Insurance and Item RM-W-8047—NCCI's Residual Market Manual for Workers Compensation and Employers Liability Insurance introduced new editions of NCCI's Basic Manual and Residual Market Manual, respectively.

Since the implementation of these filings, we have received valuable stakeholder feedback. Based on this feedback, we are recommending additional improvements.

This filing does not make any substantive changes to any rule or classification that would result in premium impact.

The updates reflected in the attached Basic Manual, Residual Market Manual, and Forms Manual state exhibits fall into two categories:

1. Reformatting of NCCI's Basic Manual Table of classifications by hazard group by eliminating the countrywide table in its entirety and replacing it with individual state-specific tables.
Based on feedback received from stakeholders, the Table of classifications by hazard group has been restructured to
 - improve usability, and
 - enable users to view hazard group assignment by state.

Because the tables are now state specific, the applies in and discontinued columns in the table have been eliminated.

Each state's Basic Manual will contain a reformatted table that includes

- a state-specific list of classification codes
- the hazard group that each code is assigned to, and
- the hazard group effective date for each code.

2. General updates to the manuals' content

Based on additional stakeholder feedback and routine reviews of the content, it is necessary to

- clarify certain classification phraseologies

Item B-1446—Revisions to NCCI's Basic Manual, Residual Market Manual, and Forms Manual

Impact

There will be no premium impact as a result of the proposed changes.

Catastrophe provisionsRule ID: BM-PARC-C499FEffective Date: ~~November 1, 2021~~ March 1, 2023*

Catastrophe provisions of the policy are (a) Catastrophe (other than Certified Acts of Terrorism), (b) Terrorism, and (c) Terrorism Risk Insurance Act (TRIA) of 2002 and any amendments thereto enacted by Congress.

Premium for Catastrophe (other than Certified Acts of Terrorism)

Premium for Catastrophe (other than Certified Acts of Terrorism) is calculated on the basis of total payroll according to Rules for calculating the premium and Payroll rules. Premium is calculated by dividing an employer's total payroll in each state by units of $100 and multiplying that by the appropriate value, found in the miscellaneous values. The calculation is expressed as Payroll/100 x Catastrophe (other than Certified Acts of Terrorism) Value = Premium.

This premium is applied after the standard premium and is not subject to any other modifications including, but not limited to

- premium discount
- experience rating
- schedule rating, or
- retrospective rating.

A policy issued on an "if any" basis is not charged this premium unless such policy develops premium during the policy term or at audit.

Per capita classifications are not subject to this premium charge.

Premium for Terrorism

Premium for Terrorism is calculated on the basis of total payroll according to Rules for calculating the premium and Payroll rules. Premium is calculated by dividing an employer's total payroll in each state by units of $100 and multiplying that by the appropriate value found in the miscellaneous values. The calculation is expressed as Payroll/100 x Terrorism Value = Premium.

This premium is applied after standard premium and is not subject to any other modifications including, but not limited to

- premium discount
- experience rating

If the entire prevailing wage is paid as salary or cash wages, include the total prevailing wage, including the base wage and fringe benefit, in payroll.

Partial wage

If the base wage is paid to the employee, and any portion of the fringe benefit wage is paid by the employer into an ERISA qualified third-party pension plan or group insurance plan, then exclude the amount the employer pays into the pension plan from payroll, unless the plan is found to be a device to evade workers compensation premium.

ERISA qualified third-party pension plan requirements

Ensure that the ERISA qualified third-party pension plan meets all of the following requirements:

- The pension plan is for the exclusive and irrevocable benefit of the employee.
- The pension plan and related trust are qualified under Sections 401(a) and 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.
- The Internal Revenue Service has issued a favorable determination letter to indicate a qualification.

Group insurance plan requirements

If the base wage is paid to the employee, and the employer pays any portion of the fringe benefit wage into a group insurance plan for the exclusive benefit of the employee, exclude the amount paid into the group insurance plan ~~from~~ from payroll unless the insurance plan is found to be a device to evade workers compensation premium. The employer of any non-prevailing wage jobs must otherwise fund the group insurance plan.

Overview of deposit premium and installments

Rule ID: RM-INGE-O639E

Effective Date: ~~November 1, 2021~~ March 1, 2023

The Plan Administrator establishes the deposit premium amount in accordance with the Duties and responsibilities of the Plan Administrator or the applicable state workers compensation insurance plan.

For purposes of this rule, initial or deposit premium is referred to as deposit premium. References to "installments" in deposit premium and installment rules must be interpreted to include reference to the audit adjustment program. For more information regarding the audit adjustment program, refer to the Rules for applying the audit adjustment program.

Deposit premium is the initial payment submitted by either the employer and/or its representative, as required by the Plan Administrator and/or insurance carrier, before coverage is assigned or a policy renews.

Deposit premium is required to be submitted at the time of application and at policy renewal. At the time of application, failure to submit the required deposit premium within the time frame established by the Plan Administrator may prevent coverage from being bound. For more information regarding binding of coverage, refer to Binding of coverage or the applicable state workers compensation insurance plan. For impact on renewal policies, refer to Rules for the effective date, renewal date, or reinstatement date of policies or the applicable state workers compensation insurance plan.

For more information regarding the payment methods available for the total required deposit premium on application submissions, refer to Payment methods for initial premium or deposit premium or the applicable state workers compensation insurance plan.

Estimated annual premium is developed in accordance with NCCI's Basic Manual rules and state-specific assigned risk workers compensation premium algorithms. For more information regarding estimated annual premium, refer to NCCI's Basic Manual rule, Estimated annual premium.

Item-E-1409 – Enhancement to NCCI's
Experience Rating Methodology

FILING MEMORANDUM

ITEM E-1409—ENHANCEMENT TO NCCI'S EXPERIENCE RATING PLAN METHODOLOGY

PURPOSE

This item revises certain underlying components provided in the methodology used in NCCI's Experience Rating Plan (Plan) to reflect current business and industry needs. The underlying Plan components impacted are:

- Primary/excess loss split point (split point)
- State per claim accident limitation (SAL) and United States Longshore and Harbor Workers' Compensation (USL&HW) per claim accident limitation
- G value
- Credibility parameters underlying calculation of the weight (W) and ballast (B) values
- Discount ratios (D-ratios)

The formulas and general structure of the Plan remain unchanged.

BACKGROUND

The experience rating modification is intended to predict an employer's future loss experience using its historical loss experience. For example, an experience rating modification of 1.20 is a prediction that the employer's future loss experience will be 20% worse than the average employer in the same classification. The experience rating modification is intended to reflect the employer's past loss experience only to the extent that it is considered predictive of future loss experience. The weight given to actual losses in the experience rating modification calculation is called credibility; as the size of the employer increases, credibility also increases.

NCCI periodically evaluates Plan methodology and performance. During the latest review, NCCI identified some opportunities to improve Plan performance, with revisions that will result in:

- A more accurate and predictive experience rating modification
- Experience rating modifications that reflect a more equitable determination of primary and excess losses across states with varying cost levels
- More comparable Plan performance in states with claim costs that vary significantly from the countrywide average
- Experience rating modifications less sensitive to large outlier claims without sacrificing predictive accuracy
- More consistent calculation of each employer's expected claim count, which is expected to result in more appropriate credibility being assigned to each employer's loss experience
- Recalibrated credibility parameters underlying the weight and ballast values to increase equity across employers
- The elimination of complex calculations where no value is added

The following underlying components are impacted by the enhanced Plan.

FILING MEMORANDUM

Split Point

The primary/excess loss split point divides the losses from each historical claim into two layers: primary losses (those beneath the split point) and excess losses (those above the split point). For example, if the split point is $15,000, a claim totaling $50,000 would contribute $15,000 to the primary layer and $35,000 to the excess layer. Primary losses receive a greater weight than excess losses in the experience rating modification formula. Because of this, primary losses have a greater impact on the experience rating modification. The split point is currently a countrywide value ($18,500) that is updated with each state's annual loss cost/rate filing to reflect changes in countrywide claim costs.

State per Claim Accident Limitation (SAL)

The state per claim accident limitation (SAL) is the maximum dollar amount from any one claim that may impact the experience rating modification. For example, if the SAL is $200,000, then any claims with incurred losses above that amount will be limited to $200,000 for the purpose of calculating the experience rating modification. Currently, the SAL is calculated as the state average cost per case times 25. The SAL can also be derived at 10% times the state reference point (SRP), where SRP is calculated as state average cost per case times 250.

The SAL is intended to curtail the impact that extremely large outlier claims have on the experience rating modification, because these dollars are not expected to be predictive of future loss experience beyond a certain point.

The state multiple claim accident limitation is the maximum dollar amount that an accident involving two or more persons may impact the experience rating modification. It is calculated as twice the SAL.

The USL&HW per claim and multiple claim accident limitations are calculated in a similar manner as the state accident limitations and apply to claims subject to the USL&HW Act. These accident limitations are updated with each state's annual loss cost/rate filing.

G Value

The G value represents state average claim severity (in thousands of dollars). Its primary use is in the determination of an employer's expected claim count, which serves as the basis for the credibility assigned to its primary and excess loss experience. The G value is updated with each state's annual loss cost/rate filing.

Credibility Parameters

NCCI's current experience rating modification (M) formula is:

The enclosed materials are copyrighted materials of the National Council on Compensation Insurance, Inc. ("NCCI"). ITEM E-1409—ENHANCEMENT TO NCCI'S EXPERIENCE RATING PLAN METHODOLOGY

Where:

- A_p, A_e = Actual Losses (Primary, Excess)
- E_p, E_e = Expected Losses (Primary, Excess)
- E = Total Expected Losses
- W = Weight
- B = Ballast

The weighting value (W) and ballast value (B) influence the degree to which an employer's actual losses impact the experience rating modification. The W and B values are determined by a set of 10 credibility parameters and these parameters have not been updated in over two decades. The current and proposed formulas governing the calculation of W and B are included in Informational Exhibit 1.

Tables of W and B values corresponding to employer size ranges are updated with each state's annual loss cost/rate filing.

Discount Ratio (D-Ratio)

The Discount ratio (D-ratio) is the expected percentage of losses that fall below the split point value and is used to determine the expected excess losses to be used in the experience rating modification calculation. NCCI publishes D-ratios by classification code. D-ratios are updated with each state's annual loss cost/rate filing.

PROPOSAL

This item proposes the following changes to the Plan:

1. Implement state-specific split points reflecting an average D-ratio of approximately 40% by state.

Currently, the split point is set at a common level across states where NCCI provides ratemaking services. Because the average D-ratio in a state depends not only on the split point, but also on that state's average claim costs, having a common split point results in an average D-ratio that varies widely across states.

The proposed methodology level-sets the average D-ratio across states to approximately 40% by introducing a state-specific split point, which allows the split point to better reflect each state's average claim costs. As a result, experience rating modifications will reflect a more equitable determination of primary and excess losses across states with varying cost levels.

For example, instead of the current split point value of $18,500 applying to all states, under the proposed Plan a state with higher-than-average claim severity may have a split point value of $25,000, while a state with lower-than-average claim severity may have a split point value of $15,000. The use of state-specific split point values that reflect individual state cost differences is intended to better align across states the weight given to actual employer loss experience in the experience rating modification calculation. In turn, this is expected to produce improved and more comparable Plan performance in states with claim costs that vary significantly from the countrywide average.

ITEM E-1409—ENHANCEMENT TO NCCI'S EXPERIENCE RATING PLAN METHODOLOGY

Informational Exhibit 2 shows each state's proposed split point value, which was calculated using Workers Compensation Statistical Plan (WCSP) data underlying the 2018 loss cost/rate filing, and trended, based on the anticipated future loss cost/rate filing effective date for each state as provided in the Implementation section of this item.

Average claim costs vary significantly across NCCI states. The experience rating modification applies to premium that is based on manual loss costs/rates. Because loss costs/rates vary by state in accordance with cost differences, it is paramount that the experience rating modification similarly reflects state cost differences to achieve comparable performance across states. Tailoring the split point to reflect these cost differences is a big step towards aligning performance across states and results in a more accurate and predictive experience rating modification compared to applying a countrywide split point uniformly across states.

To keep up with changes in claim costs and preserve alignment with other experience rating parameters, it is anticipated that the split point value will be indexed concurrent with each state's annual loss cost/rate filing based on an estimate of annual severity changes between the average loss date for experience rating modifications in the initial implementation year and the effective year.

2. Revise the calculation of accident limitations to reflect the 95th percentile of lost-time claims.

The state per claim accident limitation (SAL) is used to curtail the impact of large claims on the experience rating modification because large outlier claims are generally not expected to be predictive of future loss experience. The use of a state-level 95th percentile results in an SAL that is expected to impact the largest 5% of lost-time claims. A similar change is proposed for the USL&HW per claim accident limitation to reflect the 95th percentile of lost-time claims reported under USL&HW Act benefits for F-classifications. Note that this change renders the state reference point (SRP) obsolete (the SAL was previously calculated as 10% of SRP).

The new definition of the SAL and USL&HW per claim accident limitation results in lower limits in every state, making experience rating modifications less sensitive to large outlier claims without sacrificing predictive accuracy.

Informational Exhibit 5 demonstrates how the SAL decreases under the new proposed methodology across states, using historical data underlying experience rating modifications effective in 2018. This new methodology is expected to result in an SAL that is not only lower than the current SAL, but also more stable over time.

Note that, unlike the split point, this item does not propose a new SAL value to go along with the updated methodology. Rather, the state per claim accident limitation and USL&HW per claim accident limitation will be calculated under the new methodology in the state's loss cost/rate filing corresponding to the anticipated effective date provided in the Implementation section of this item.

3. Revise the calculation of G to reflect accident limitations and the reduction of medical-only losses, where applicable.

ITEM E-1409—ENHANCEMENT TO NCCI'S EXPERIENCE RATING PLAN METHODOLOGY

G represents state average claim severity (in thousands of dollars). While G currently reflects the unlimited average severity in a state, this item proposes to update the methodology under which G is calculated to reflect accident limitations and the 70% reduction of medical-only losses (per the experience rating adjustment [ERA]), where applicable.

In the calculation of an employer's expected claim count, the employer's expected losses are divided by the G value (average claim severity). Because expected losses already reflect ERA and accident limitations, this change in how G is calculated makes for a more consistent calculation of each employer's expected claim count. In turn, this is expected to result in more appropriate credibility being assigned to each employer's loss experience.

Note that, unlike the split point, this item does not propose a new G value to go along with the updated methodology. Rather, the G value will be calculated under the new methodology in the state's loss cost/rate filing corresponding to the anticipated effective date provided in the Implementation section of this item.

4. Update the credibility parameters underlying the weight and ballast values.

The proposed credibility parameters underlying the weight and ballast values have been recalibrated to increase equity across employers. All other things being equal, the new credibility parameters would increase credibility for larger risks and decrease credibility for smaller risks. However, because of the interaction of the split point change with the credibility change, the combined impact will vary across states and across employers of difference sizes.

Informational Exhibit 1 contains the proposed updates to the values used in calculating the weight and ballast values.

5. Simplify the D-ratio calculation by removing the classification-level weighting adjustment.

NCCI currently produces D-ratios that vary by classification code. D-ratios are first calculated by hazard group (HG) and then adjusted to reflect a classification's share of indemnity and medical pure premium. While the classification-level adjustment adds complexity to the calculation, NCCI's research found that this adjustment does not add value. As such, this item proposes to eliminate the classification-level adjustment, meaning that the D-ratio will vary only by HG and not by classification code.

IMPACT

No statewide premium impact is anticipated from the changes proposed in this item. The overall average experience rating modification in each state is not expected to be impacted by these changes.

Impacts to experience rating modifications at the individual employer level will vary, and may be offset by changes in loss experience and routine updates to rating values. See Informational Exhibit 3 for details on how experience rating modifications can be expected to change. Experience rating modifications are expected to change by less than +/- 5% for most employers. Informational Exhibit 3 provides details for each state.

Overall, the proposed changes to the experience rating modification calculation are expected to produce Plan performance that is both improved and more comparable across states. Informational Exhibit 4 shows

ITEM E-1409—ENHANCEMENT TO NCCI’S EXPERIENCE RATING PLAN METHODOLOGY

INFORMATIONAL EXHIBIT 1-B PROPOSED WEIGHT AND BALLAST FORMULAS

(Applies in: CO, OR)

The W and B values for each jurisdiction are currently determined by the following formulas:

$$B = E \left(\frac{0.1 \frac{E}{G} + 2,750}{\frac{E}{G} + 700} \right),$$

where B is bounded below by $2,500G$.

E is the employer’s total expected losses and G is the state average severity.

$$W = \frac{E + B}{E + C},$$

$$C = E \left(\frac{0.75 \frac{E}{G} + 203,825}{\frac{E}{G} + 5,100} \right)$$

and C is bounded below by $60,000G$.

This filing proposes to update the formulas to be:

$$B = E \left(\frac{0.056 \frac{E}{G} + 2,910}{\frac{E}{G} + 600} \right),$$

where B is bounded below by $4,600G$.

$$W = \frac{E + B}{E + C},$$

and C is bounded below by $33,000G$.

These values are proposed to be the same for all jurisdictions, regardless of whether medical-only losses are reduced by 70%. Note that under the proposed formulas, G is the state limited average severity.

IMPACT OF PROPOSED CHANGES ON MODS
OREGON

This exhibit shows how experience rating modifications (mods) for intrastate employers would differ between the current and proposed Plans. The rating effective date, and thus the underlying experience on which the mods are based, is identical for each mod between the two Plans shown in this exhibit. Therefore, differences in the mods are due purely to the proposed changes in the calculation of the rating values, including the split point, SAL, G value, and the weight and ballast. Additionally, the historical ELRs and D-ratios have been restated under the proposed Plan to account for these changes.

The table below shows the distribution of the difference in the mod in terms of percent of risks, payroll, and pure premium. The mod difference is calculated for each rating as (mod under proposed Plan) – (mod under current Plan). A positive mod difference indicates that the proposed methodology caused the mod to increase, while a negative mod difference indicates that the proposed methodology caused the mod to decrease.

INFORMATIONAL EXHIBIT 4 EXPERIENCE RATING PLAN PERFORMANCE COMPARISON

The chart below demonstrates performance of the Experience Rating Plan (Plan) under both the current and proposed methodology using NCCI's standard quintile test, which can be interpreted as follows:

- Employers are placed into one of five groups (quintiles) based on their experience rating modification (mod), with the employers on the left receiving the lowest mods and the employers on the right receiving the highest mods.
- While the mod is generally based on the experience from the three most recent policies reported in accordance with NCCI's Statistical Plan for Workers Compensation and Employers Liability Insurance, this chart is showing the experience that actually emerged from the policy that the mod applies to. For example, a mod effective January 1, 2018 will generally be based on experience from 2014–2016 and applies to policies effective in 2018.
- The five groups on the top half of this chart are shown before the application of the mod. The five groups on the bottom half of this chart are shown after the application of the mod.
- The top half of this chart reveals that the Plan was generally able to identify the better-than-average and worse-than-average employers. This is because the employers receiving the lowest mods subsequently had the best experience. Likewise, the employers receiving the highest mods subsequently had the worst experience.
- If the Plan were performing at an optimal level, the loss ratios shown on the bottom half of this chart would be 100% for all five groups. Under the current Plan, the loss ratio for the left-most group is notably less than 100%. Under the proposed Plan, this group's loss ratio is corrected to 100%. Additionally, all but the third group's loss ratio are closer to 100%.
- One metric for measuring Plan performance, the quintile test statistic, is calculated as follows:

$$\text{Quintile metric} = \frac{\sum_{n=1}^5 [LR_i^{After} - 1]^2}{\sum_{n=1}^5 [LR_i^{Before} - 1]^2}, \quad \text{where: } LR_i^{After} \text{ is the loss ratio after the application of the mod for quintile } i, \text{ and } LR_i^{Before} \text{ is the loss ratio before the application of the mod for quintile } i.$$

The proposed Plan scores 0.003, an improvement over the current Plan's score of 0.013.
